

Business Minors for: College of Arts & Sciences Students

A College of Arts and Sciences student seeking a business minor should consult with the Business School's Undergraduate Programs Office for advising. Students may be advised to meet with specific faculty specialists in their area of interest. The Sawyer Business School offers two types of business minors to College of Arts and Sciences students:

The General Business Minor appeals to students who choose to develop a basic understanding and appreciation of business administration. This may be tailored to students' interests.
