

Tenure-Track position in Information Systems

Suffolk University's Sawyer Business School in Boston invites applications for a tenure-track position in the Information Systems and Operations Management (ISOM) Department. The anticipated start date is September 2012. The Sawyer Business School's mission emphasizes globalization and innovation, and seeks applicants that can help achieve this mission.

ISOM faculty teach a combination of undergraduate/graduate and day/evening courses. The standard teaching load is 5 semester courses per academic year, with one course reduction for the initial year. ISOM faculty conduct research in various areas including e-health innovation, technology adoption, outsourcing, e-government, data quality, security & privacy, business intelligence, HCI and e-commerce. For more information about our department, visit here.

We are seeking an assistant professor with the following:

Required Qualities:

- Evidence of strong teaching and research potential.
- Completion of a Ph.D. in Information Systems or related area.
- Ability to teach core courses in Management Information Systems.

In 2011, ISOM faculty members will be attending AMCIS, ICIS and DSI to interview candidates. Please submit a curriculum vita, teaching evaluations, three reference letters and 1-2 publications by clicking the Apply Now button . Only candidates with qualifications compatible with our needs will be contacted for an interview.

Suffolk University, founded in 1906, is a comprehensive private university located on Boston's historic Beacon Hill. This global university offers a wide range of undergraduate and graduate degrees at campuses in greater Boston as well as Madrid, Spain and online. Recent recognition include the following:

- Ranked among the Best 300 Business Schools by The Princeton Review, 2011 edition.
- Financial Times 2010 edition: Executive MBA programs ranked in the Top 100 worldwide.
- U.S. News, 2009 edition, Ranks Suffolk in First Tier of Universities in North

Distinguished by its teaching, the university utilizes the intellectual contributions of its faculty to provide a diverse, challenging and uniquely supportive environment in which motivated and capable students flourish.

The Sawyer Business School was established in 1937 and serves both undergraduate and graduate students in business and public administration. The Sawyer Business School is accredited by AACSB International, NASPAA, and offers BSBA, MS, MPA, MBA, Executive MBA, Online MBA, and Global MBA to a diverse student population. The ISOM Department offers a BSBA degree in Information Systems major and a MBA degree with Information Systems concentration. Undergraduate students can tailor their degree by adding an Information Systems or Electronic Commerce minor to their majors. We also offer an undergraduate concentration in Web Design and a Functional Information Systems Minor for College of Arts and Sciences Students.