Graduate Student Association’s Responsibilities

Graduate Student Groups
The Suffolk University Graduate Student Association is the representative body for all graduate students at Suffolk University within the College of Arts and Sciences and the Sawyer School of Management. The Graduate Student Association has evolved from the rich history of the Evening Division Student Association (EDSA), which has made significant contributions to the Suffolk University. EDSA was the first evening organization in the country to publish its own paper.

Times have changed, as has the landscape of Suffolk University. Its student profiles and academic programs have changed to reflect this evolution. The shift from EDSA to GSA was another step in the recognition of the changing nature of our student body. With Suffolk University’s undergraduate population more closely resembling the traditional campus community and the increase offerings of graduate programs, including Ph.D. programs in Clinical Psychology and Economics as well as a Master of Fine Arts providing a more complex picture of our graduate student population, not currently represented within the EDSA structure.

Increasingly there is a need to have an organization to better meet the needs of our graduate students. GSA’s mission includes, but is not limited to:

- Sponsoring social/networking events,
- Promote and support career and professional development opportunities,
- Support research and academic pursuits that enrich the intellectual life of the University, and
- Recognize and celebrate the accomplishments of graduate students.

Program Specific Associations:
Whereas GSA is designed to program for the entire graduate population, and serves as the umbrella group for other organizations, there are several program specific associations with the mission of programming specifically for and by students within those programs. Currently, ten program specific associations exist: Ascend, Association of Latino Professionals for America (ALPFA), Chinese Student & Scholars Association (CSSA), Crime and Justice Graduate Student Association, Future Healthcare Leaders Association (FHLA), Interior Design Council (IDC), Master of Public Administration Student Association (MPASA), National Association of Women MBAs (NAW MBA), Suffolk University Graduate
Funding:
A considerable amount of time and resources have been invested in programs and events sponsored by GSA during the past several years. With the support of both colleges and the Office of Student Leadership and Involvement, the existing graduate groups have offered the graduate population a tremendous increase in programming. Each graduate student on the Boston campus pays a $26 fee per semester, consistent with the fees paid by graduate students under the old EDSA model.

Fee Distribution:
Activities Fees are distributed based on a written budget proposal from each Suffolk University Graduate Student Group. For all students (full or part time) the full $26 is awarded to the Graduate Student Association. Upon each submission of a written budget proposal from a Graduate Student Group the Graduate Student Association Executive Board members will conduct an unbiased review process and vote on the requested budget amount based on the provide proposal criteria and the total available funds for the academic semester.
