

Success is all around.
GET IT.

SUFFOLK
UNIVERSITY
BOSTON

CONSISTENT SUCCESS

You have big aspirations. We're here to help make them real. The Career Development Center (CDC) provides the skills and resources you'll need to take your ambitions beyond graduation into the working world. Our expert staff will help you choose your major, find internships, apply to graduate programs, and land the perfect job. And they'll be in your corner throughout your career, offering consulting and job search services whenever you need them.

96%

employed or continuing education
nine months after graduation

80%

in employment relevant to career goals

TOP EMPLOYERS & INTERNSHIPS FOR THE CLASS OF 2018

Amazon • EY • Google • State Street • NESN
Raytheon • 7 News • Brigham & Women's Hospital
Massachusetts General Hospital • Merrill Lynch
CBT Architects • TJX • Fortune • Boston Bruins
Deloitte • WGBH • The Boston Globe
MullenLowe • Akamai Technologies • Citizens Bank
JP Morgan • Oxfam America • TripAdvisor
Shawmut Design & Construction
Museum of Fine Arts • PUMA • Year Up
U.S. Department of Labor • Santander
Huntington Theatre Company
Massachusetts State House

"Suffolk's faculty and the Career Development team have created a collaborative, mutually beneficial environment that's given our firm access to the University's talented students, allowed us to present at symposiums and on-campus career events, and resulted in numerous quality hires."

Andrew G. Stone
Vice President, Wealth Advisory Merrill Lynch

READY FOR PRIME TIME

You just want to watch Hannah Montana, but there's always a Red Sox or Bruins game on the family TV at the same time. What do you do?

If you're Hannah Arroyo, you get into the game—even more than your family. And then you come to Suffolk to major in broadcast journalism and fulfill your dream of becoming an on-air sports reporter.

"To be honest," Hannah says, "I knew nothing about broadcast journalism when I came here." That's all changed, thanks in part to her sports internship at Channel 7, WHDH-TV. "Whether you're taking photos, working behind the camera, writing, or doing a stand-up, you have to know it all," she says.

"Channel 7 let me do a lot of stand-up in TD Garden," she says. "You have to be natural on camera. When you're talking to a wide audience, you don't want to be a robot. I learned that at my internship."

Her next assignment? Hannah successfully auditioned to be a student reporter for "Suffolk in the City"—the University's partnership with NECN. You can catch her delivering news reports every Friday from the sidewalk just outside Studio 73.

Protip: You can see our state-of-the-art TV studio right next to the Welcome Center.

OPPORTUNITIES IN BOSTON

#1

best city to find a job in
—Fortune Magazine

#1

city for entrepreneurial growth
and innovation
—U.S. Chamber of Commerce

#3

most walkable city in the U.S.
—U.S. News & World Report

8

nationally ranked hospitals in Boston
—U.S. News & World Report

29

Fortune 1000 companies
headquartered in Greater Boston
—Fortune Magazine

1,500

arts and cultural organizations in Boston
—The Boston Foundation

RAM ALUMNI MENTORING PROGRAM (RAMP)

RAMP connects Suffolk students and alumni in ongoing mentoring relationships that foster students' personal, educational, and career success. Alumni from undergraduate and graduate programs in the College of Arts & Sciences and the Sawyer Business School are available to partner with you as early as your freshman year. These professionals offer valuable advice and connections to the working world.

PUT YOUR AMBITIONS IN MOTION AT SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY!

suffolk.edu/undergraduate-admission • suffolk.edu/careers